

MOMO One

MIND OF MY OWN

What can MOMO do for workers?

- MOMO can benefit your workload. It converts all the information provided by children / young people into a report that workers can use as evidence in their assessments and reports.
- It is honest and private.
- Helps build a relationship between a worker and children / young people.
- It is easy to use and will give children / young people another way of finding their voice if they struggle to verbalise their feelings!
- Children / Young people have more flexibility with telling their worker what is happening without having to wait for meetings.
- It is a way of contacting an IRO as well as their worker.
- Young people can decide who they would like in their meetings prior to them happening.
- During assessments, visits and meetings, it helps children and young people manage those events and creates a stronger record of their wishes and feelings.
 - When children and young people want to share good news or want to share they did something well with their workers, they can use MOMO to do so. It's a gift.

MOMO One

MIND OF MY OWN

What can MOMO do for workers?

- MOMO can benefit your workload. It converts all the information provided by children / young people into a report that social workers can use as evidence in their assessments and reports.
- It is honest and private.
- Helps build a relationship between a worker and children / young people.
- It is easy to use and will give children/young people another way of finding their voice if they struggle to verbalise their feelings!
- Children / Young people have more flexibility with telling their worker what is happening without having to wait for meetings.
- It is a way of contacting an IRO as well as a worker.
- Children / Young people can decide who they would like in their meetings prior to them happening.
- During assessments, visits and before meetings, it helps children and young people manage those events and creates a stronger record of their wishes and feelings.
 - When children and young people want to share good news or want to share they did something well with their workers, they can use MOMO to do so. It's a gift.

