One Minute Guide: Munro – The journey so far...

What is it?

We shall be facilitating a new round of Staff Briefings for Children's Services and partners in Autumn 2012.

Why are we doing it?

The Briefings will follow on from those undertaken in the Spring and will be an opportunity to share our progress on the 'Munro' journey, where we are refocusing the way we work with children and young people and implementing the various challenges of the Social Work Reform Board (SWRB).

The Briefings will also provide an opportunity for staff to feedback from the front line to senior managers.

Areas that will be covered are the development of Early Intervention, the launch of our Multi-Agency Safeguarding Hub (MASH), learning from consultations, complaints and audits, updates on the 'new ways of working' Pilots and much more!

When are they happening?

The Briefings will be held in October and November 2012. Invitations will be issued in late September. All staff in Children's Services are encouraged to attend.

Where are they happening?

Venues across the Borough – they will be coming to a place near you!

Who are the key players?

The Briefings will be facilitated by the PCFSW, assisted by other Managers who will provide updates on the various work streams they are involved with. For further information, please contact workforcedevelopment@redbridge.gov.uk.
