Your social worker is called:

Their telephone number is:

Their email address is:

This is a meeting where people involved in your day to day life such as your teacher, school nurse, social worker and family will get together to talk because they feel that you and your family may need some extra support.

This meeting is led by a chairperson and will consider what is going well and what help you might need with anything that is not going well.

There will also be a conversation about what needs to happen to stop any worries that people may have about your safety and well-being.

If you have a disability the child in need meeting will be used to think about any extra care you might have and any changes that might be needed. This might be a personal assistant or support worker or you may go to stay somewhere overnight for a break.

What can I expect from my social worker?

They will explain to you exactly why this meeting is being held, what will happen at the meeting and how you will be involved. You can talk about any questions or worries about the meeting with them. Your social worker will also meet with your parents/carers before the meeting to collect their views.
